

DR. J. E. ENNIS

Atlanta, Ga., Physician Addresses the People of Fall River on a Matter of Health.

"To Whom It May Concern:—Of late there has been a good deal of discussion in regard to advertised medicines, their value and power to cure.

I want to say to the people of Cloverport that I believe the most valuable cod liver oil preparation, the best body-builder, health restorer, and strength creator, known to medicine today is Vinol.

While Vinol does not contain the system-clogging oil of old fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions, it actually does contain all the curative, medicinal principles of the cod's liver in a high concentrated form, and it is delicious to take.

I advise Vinol in my practice, and find it has no equal for healing coughs, colds, bronchial troubles and sore lungs.

I have used Vinol in many cases of indigestion, mal-assimilation, and for patients who were anaemic and run down with splendid results. I have found Vinol to be a boon to the aged, as it aids the enfeebled system to sustain life; it induces appetite, and restful sleep, it is, a real body-builder, and thus prolongs life.

I believe Vinol to be worthy of any honest physician's endorsement.

Our local druggists, Short & Haynes, sell Vinol to the people of Cloverport on a positive guarantee; if it fails to give satisfaction the entire purchase money will be refunded.

RAYMOND.

There is talk of a spring school at this place.

M. D. Cashman contemplates going to California in the near future.

Misses Sallie Compton and Mary Mercer attended church at Walnut Grove Sunday.

On last Wednesday night Proctor Knott's meat house was burned, losing all their meat and molasses, about fifty bushels of oats, and had about that many very badly scorched. No insurance.

A very successful school taught here by Miss Pearl Mays was closed on Jan 19 with a large treat and spelling bee. Quite a number of visitors were present. The following pupils came every day and received a book. Herman and Joseph Claycomb, Johnnie Avit, Alman Chappell, Owen and Nannie Bassett, Harlan and Leo Cashman and Bessie and Bettie Knott. Miss Pearl is a splendid teacher and I think she would have no trouble in securing the school again.

LaGrippe and Pneumonia.

Pneumonia often follows LaGrippe but never follows the use of Foleys' Honey and Tar. It cures lagrippe coughs and prevents pneumonia and consumption. Ask for Foleys' Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered. Mr. G. Vacher, of 157 Osgood St., Chicago, writes "My wife had a severe case of lagrippe three years ago, and it left her with a terrible cough. She tried a bottle of Foleys' Honey and Tar and it gave immediate relief. A 50 cent bottle cured her cough entirely." Retain substitute.—Sold by A. R. Fisher.

MATTINGLY

Items for week ending Feb. 3. Mrs. Sam Muffet is reported very ill.

Born to Tom Rogers and wife Jan, 20, a boy.

No work has yet been done on the Clover creek bridge.

Hardy Walker has sold his store at Taul's shop, to Huber Roberts.

Isaac Blair received treatment for cancer of the hip, from Dr. Mitchell.

The report has reached us of the death of Allen Burdette by drowning.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Leshe and children visited the latter's mother at Cloverport over Sunday.

Jesse K. Howard and daughter, Jennie, of Kirk, visited his brother at this place Friday and Saturday.

Len Keenan and wife have moved from the farm to Jolly Station where he has employment at the flour mill.

The community was saddened to hear of the death of Mrs. Isaac Davis. She was a lovable christian and we will miss her.

Our young people report an enjoyable dance, given at Bill Brown's. Mr. Brown and family are preparing to move to Haynesville, Ohio county.

Let us support our editor in his efforts against the evils of whiskey. The town is in the hands of a lawless set. Can't one or two good men and women rise up and put these vicious elements down?

Some thirty candidates for baptism and a large congregation gathered at the Tar Springs on Sabbath morning and were disappointed, there being no one present to immerse them. Truly "the harvest is ripe and the labors few."

Misses Sue and Lee McGavock were the guests of their sister Mrs. Lee Miller Saturday and Sunday.

The Simple Life.

For a cultured person to relinquish his wonted mode of life, to dwell in a three roomed cottage, to be clad in corduroy or fustian and to fare sumptuously every day on beans, cabbage soup and black bread would not be a return to the simple but to the sordid life. One can live a simple life just as well in a castle as in a cottage.—Race Builder.

The Whole Thing.

Jackson Parke—What do you consider the two most important places in the world? Gotham—Oh, that's easy, of course—Jackson Parke—Oh, don't say New York for one, Gotham—I wasn't going to. I was going to say "Manhattan and the Bronx," of course.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Luckiest Man in Arkansas.

"I'm the luckiest man in Arkansas," writes H. L. Stanley, of Bruno, "since the restoration of my wife's health after five years of continuous coughing and bleeding from the lungs; and I owe my good fortune to the world's greatest medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which I know from experience will cure consumption if taken in time. My wife improved with first bottle and twelve bottles completed the cure." Cures the worst coughs and colds or money refunded. At Short & Haynes druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Crooks' Medicine Man. The medicine man of the Crooks will not eat anything scorched in cooking. In treating a gun or arrow shot wound he as well as the patient will fast four days, only drinking a little gruel. He will not allow a woman to look at his patient until he is well or dead. If his patient dies, the medicine man takes a lot of medicine himself in order to cleanse himself from the fumes or odor of the dead. The pallbearers, as we might call those assisting in the burial, also take the same cleansing process.

And, again, when an Indian committed murder, even in self defense, he went to the medicine man and took the cleansing remedy, claiming the remedy appeased the crime and the trouble to his mind.

At the full of each moon it was the custom of the bucks to drink medicine made by the medicine man to cleanse their systems. In camp the Indian killed nothing which was not eatable.—Indian Journal.

Reconciled Science and Religion.

A clergyman is quoted in Everybody's Magazine as confounding an advanced young woman who was demonstrating to him that science had disproved religion with this little parable. "Madam," he said, "I once knew a member of your sex who perfectly reconciled science and religion. She is a prominent member of the Young Women's Christian association, and she was making an address to a large gathering of women, which was interrupted by a terrific thunder shower. She shared with many the awful fear of thunder and lightning, and, with the others, she trembled in silence for a few moments. When a blinding flash was swiftly followed by a frightful clap of thunder she struggled to her feet and began to pray, 'O Lord, take us under thy protecting wings, for thou knowest that feathers are nonconductors.'"

The Men of Turkey.

With the exception of the Mussulmans the men of Turkey are laborers, one and all. Usually in the villages (for there are no farms as we understand the term and every one lives in a hamlet or a city) the men own the property in common with the rest of the family. When a girl marries she goes to her husband's home to live, and when her children become old enough they take their turn in tilling the fields and marketing the produce. Agriculture is the main occupation everywhere, and it is of the simplest form. The farmer rises with the dawn and in company with his wife, sons and daughters repairs to the fields. One woman only remains at home to prepare the meals and set the house in order.—Southern Workman.

December.

"Nobody is worried nowadays by the fact that the twelfth month of the year is called the tenth, December," says a writer, "and no doubt even the ancient Romans soon got used to the anomaly when the new year was shifted back from March to January, though the old names of the months were retained. But there was one of them who made ingenious use of it—L. I. cinus, a rascally procurator at Lyons under Augustus. He insisted on having certain monthly payments made fourteen times a year, arguing, when December came round, that as it was the tenth month of the year and there ought to be twelve there must be two more to be accounted for."

Fed Them on Stale News.

In the British arctic expedition of 1875 one of the chaplains had a file of the London Times twenty years old, containing the Crimean war reports. One copy was given out to each ship daily. The officers had it first, then it went to the forecabin, and soon every one was as keen about the news as if the war had been proceeding. The clergyman in control of the press was bought to issue an evening edition, and when Sevastopol was about to be taken excitement ran so high that the newspaper office—a locker—was almost stormed. The editor, however, was firm and continued with his daily issue, the interest being kept up to the end of the expedition.

"In God We Trust."

The word "God" never appeared in any government act until the year 1864, when, at the suggestion of the director of the mint, former Governor Pollock of Pennsylvania, "In God We Trust" was stamped on the copper two cent piece. Before that time "E Pluribus Unum" had been the motto. Strange to relate, "E Pluribus Unum" on coins never was authorized by law.

An Inference.

Mrs. Jackson—Did you see Mrs. Briggs' collection of rare old china? Jackson—Yes. Her family must have been quite poor. Mrs. Jackson—No. Why do you think so? Jackson—Well, if they had been able to keep servants she never would have had that collection of rare old china.

Explained.

"Pop!" "What is it, Willie?" "Why is there a 'w' in 'sword'?" "Ahem! For the same reason that there is a 'k' in 'knock,' Willie." "Thank you, pop!"—Kansas City Independent.

Showed Her Age.

Grace—They say that Miss Forty-odde was named after her Aunt Georgiana. Gwendolyn—She looks as if she was named before her Aunt Georgiana.—Judge.

If men would consider not so much wherein they differ as wherein they agree there would be far less uncharitableness.—Addison.
